Frank Turley, who is assistant engineer at the new mine, got slightly hurt while working there on Monday. He is rapidly recovering and expects to resume his duties within the next few days.

James McNeill, proprietor of the Coleman hotel, has just received the following message: "Daulphin, Mar. 1. Jan. 28. We return Saturday with 100 reserve No. 1 or No. 2 room. Roy Hoggarth."

Robert Holmes, who for a long while was a resident of Coleman, but now of Burton City, is visiting friend in Coleman this week, who are very pleased to see him. He visited Lethbridge on Wednesday.

The entertainment which was given by the debating club in their room on Tuesday evening last was much enjoyed by those present. The programme consisted of organ solos by A. W. Wright; solo, Tuba till Death, W. Haydon; reading, a selection from Burns, E. Matthews; which Coleman is famous. It is very, very seldom that any musician is carried on to the streets of Coleman in fact, generally speaking, Coleman can boast of having the most orderly and respectable class of miners that can be found in any mining camp in the West.

HOCKEY MATCH AT MOYIE, B.C.

Coleman and Moyie Play an Interesting Game—Results in 3 Goals For Each Team

Quite a large crowd witnessed the hockey match which was played at Moyie on Wednesday evening between the Coleman and Moyie hockey players. A Coleman visitor who witnessed the game says that a good, clean interesting game was played by both sides. The goal keepers were, Coleman, Gready, of Coleman; Moyie, Miller of Cranbrook. About five minutes after the game commenced Coleman scored the first goal, about five minutes later Coleman scored again, the Moyie players scored about 14 minutes after the commencement and scored again about two minutes before time was called for the first half. About ten minutes after the second half Moyie scored which was followed about five minutes after by Coleman scoring another goal. When time was called the game stood tied—Coleman 3, Moyie 3. Our boys have had little practice during this season which, in all probability, the result of the game can be attributed to. However, we are willing to give our Moyie friends credit for the good game which they ably assisted in.

Rev. A. E. W. Holt, of Fishburn, came to town on Saturday and conducted Divine services in the C. of E. church here on Sunday. At the evening service he delivered a very instructive and able sermon.

The air line at the No. 2 entrance to the mine broke on Saturday last. The high pressure of air threw D. G. Stafford, the master mechanic, to the ground, bruising him about the head and hands, but not sufficient to prevent him from working.

James Fax and his concert company are well and favorably spoken of by many of Coleman citizens as it gives them the privilege to hear them in the town. Jim Fax and his able company will appear at the opera house here on Monday night next.

What is said to be the best dance ever known in the Crow's Nest Pass was given in the opera house here on Friday evening last. The music was supplied by an orchestra from Fernie. A large crowd was present and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

There was a large number present at the men's bible class, held in the club rooms, on Sunday afternoon last. There is always room for more and a hearty invitation is extended to all men who would like to spend an hour in bible study, to be present at that gathering.

The ever famous Tom Marks and his company will appear at the Coleman opera house for two nights, Monday and Tuesday, 1st and 2nd of March. The people were so well pleased with the performances given by that company here, week before last, that it is pretty sure thing that large audiences await the Tom Marks Co.

A press despatch from Nelson, B. C., under date of January 21st, says that it seems likely that Moyie will not be in the Nelson hockey league and "there is some doubt, about Coleman being able to make the distance." It goes without saying that Coleman has a swift hockey team and will continue to give a good account of themselves.

The Miner can boast of having done a larger amount of job work, during the 9 months of its existence than any other printing office in town four times the size of Coleman, during that time. Our prices are no higher than those of other offices, but, instead are often less than those charged at other places and our work is always high-class.

Three dollars for ringlets seats, two dollars for reserved seats and one dollar general admission are generally charged here to see a boxing contest, but quite a crowd witnessed several exciting fights on main street in the few hours of Sunday morning last without having to pay. In one fight, which took place opposite the Coleman hotel, blood was very much in evidence and many who saw so much blood there on Sunday thought there had been another dog fight for which Coleman is famous. It is very, very seldom that any musician is carried on to the streets of Coleman in fact, generally speaking, Coleman can boast of having the most orderly and respectable class of miners that can be found in any mining camp in the West.

THE LETHBRIDGE CORRESPONDENT

We wonder if the Coleman correspondent to the Lethbridge Daily Herald really thinks that we are "near dead," as he puts it. We hereby extend an invitation to that individual to come within two or three hundred yards (or nearer if he cares to) of the MINER office any lawful day, and if his hearing facilities are in any way sensitive the boss of the MINER's machinery will convince him that we are just as lively as ever, in fact our business is continually increasing. Friend, do not for one moment think, or even try to think, that because business is so dull with you that bad times have come to Coleman and have affected the MINER so much as to make it "near dead." You seem to be the only sufferer and you deserve but very little sympathy—you should have advertised your business, please remember it, future that advertising is the life blood of any trade.

BLAIRMORE

Chicken pox is all the go in Blairmore these days.

J. A. McDonald paid a flying visit to Fernie this week.

Alex. McLean was down from Coleman on Sunday evening.

Fred Haines, of Grauman, is visiting at his brother's, A. B. Haines.

Frayser & Sinclair are building a blacksmith shop at the new workings of the West Canadian Collieries here. S. Muir, of the West Canadian staff, has resigned and will leave for Cranbrook in the course of a few days. We are sorry to lose him.

NOTES

If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. Sherman is to be the Socialist candidate in the Pass constituency at the local elections.

Wm. Sloan has resigned his seat in Coleman, Alta. to make way for Hon. Wm. Templeman, who was defeated in Victoria at the last dominion election. He will be opposed.

ANOTHER QUAKE AT MESSINA

Messina, Jan. 27.—A strong undulatory shock last week caused much alarm here and threw down remnants of a number of shattered walls. So far as is known no one was killed. The refugees have found shelter in tents, but for the last day or two a cold north wind has been blowing and there has been a fall of snow, a very rare occurrence on the Sicilian coast.

SARUBB INJURED AND RACE POSTPONED

New York, Jan. 23.—Postponement of the Alfred Sarubb-Tom Loughran race in Madison Square garden to Friday night, Feb. 5, was announced today. The postponement is due to an injury to Sarubb, the English champion middle distance runner, who was to have met the fleetfooted Indian in a race at the London Marathon distance Tuesday night, Jan. 20.

One of Sarubb's feet, it was stated, had become inflamed through the rubbing of a tight shoe during his training work at Montreal, N. J.

RECORDS IN THE HOMESTEAD ENTRIES

The homestead entries throughout Western Canada for 1908 were 49,154, as against 25,428 for the previous year. Previous to September 1, 17,000 entries were made in the West, while after the land act, 49,150 entries were made during the past four months of the year.

The Lethbridge office was the second highest in the west for entries, with 5,000 entries; Moose Jaw coming first with the record of entries, and Calgary third with 4,000.

GRAND ATTRACTION COMING

Lovers of the best in the amusement line will receive, with delight, the announcement, that Miss Louise Duthie, the celebrated Scottish vocalist and entertainer, will appear in the opera house on Wednesday evening next. Miss Duthie assisted by Miss David, instrumentalist, will present a magnificent programme of the songs of Scotland and Ireland, as well as character sketches of the national life in song. We learn from the Cal. in tone, that this charming artist scored an immense success before a huge audience in that city on Monday evening last. Miss Duthie's programme is one in which music, laughter and song reign supreme, never a dull moment. The seats are now selling at the drug store and the prices are well within the reach of all.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS

To Meet the Requirements of the Increasing Business of Coleman's Tradesmen

The fact that Coleman's business has increased considerably during the last few months and is still rapidly increasing is evident by the additions and other improvements which have been effected to several of our business stores. A little while ago Oulmette, Wright & Co's. increase of business necessitated more floor space for their numerous customers and an increase in their large stock, this want has been supplied by a large addition to that block.

The Coleman Mercantile, as we stated in our last issue, are increasing the size of their main building. They are also enlarging their flour and feed store considerably. This business, as many know, has been recently taken over by D. A. Simpson, of Glouster, Ontario. Mr. Simpson certainly means business and he is the right kind of a man for Coleman.

The Coleman Hardware Co. are having an office erected in the N. E. corner of their ground floor. This work is being done by Contractor Disney, and when completed will have a very attractive appearance. We understand that Mr. Hill will shortly make extensive alterations in the second story of his building by transforming it into a furniture department. The floor space measures in feet 30 x 51, this space will enable Mr. Hill to carry a large stock of furniture. Many of the hardware stores in the Pass and other places carry in stock household furniture and it is worth noting that Mr. Hill is not behind in this particular. Mr. Hill has in connection with his hardware department a plumbing outfit, which is equipped with modern machinery and first-class workmen whose reputation for high class work is too widely known to require any further comment. But we might just state in passing, for the benefit of those who do not know that Mr. Hill's men installed the furnace, pipes and radiators in the Coleman hotel and also installed a septic tank for that hotel. Mr. Hill has been awarded the contract for the installing of the furnace, pipes, etc. in the Coleman Mercantile. The Coleman Hardware plumbing department's reputation for good work was so widely known at Fernie that immediately after the big fire there last summer Mr. Hill was offered all kinds of plumbing work to do, at his own price, for that place.

It is rumored that W. L. Bridgeford is making arrangements for the erection of a building for himself near the opera house. He will vacate the building now occupied by him at the last of this month which will be removed, be occupied by Bert White who will carry a full line of gentlemen's furnishings. Mr. White is too well and favorably known by Coleman residents to require any introduction. We wish him success.

A new post office, size 25x30 ft. will shortly be erected near main street close by the Canadian block, by Contractor T. W. Davies. This will be a private building.

SUICIDE AT MICHEL

Michel, Jan. 22.—Simon Michael, a Bulgarian miner, about 40 years old, committed suicide today by hanging himself by a strap suspended from a door knob. In letters found on a table in his shack he assigned the cause of his death to unhappily family life and a case for drink. He leaves a wife and four children in the old country. A coroner's jury will investigate the cause tonight.

Kicking A Goal

By LITTLE MCCLUNG.

Copyright, 1927, by Associated Literary Press.

Though it was only an hour before the great football game between Clinton and Darnall, their conversation was not of the gridiron as they walked down Main street bound for Clinton oval.

"There's only one thing that keeps me from becoming engaged," said right now, Thornton said the girl after a serious pause.

"You'll have to tell me, Letta; I can't guess it," answered the stalwart quarterback of the Clinton eleven.

"Just this," she said, "I am not altogether sure that you really need me in your life. You are a strong, self-reliant boy, capable of fighting your own way over the obstacles that will confront you."

"More than all else put together, I want to know that without my encouragement you will be able to accomplish less—that I will always be an inspiration to you, no matter what your aims may be."

"For a moment the young man did not reply. Then he looked at his companion, his gaze sincere.

"Letta, you're right," he agreed quietly. "That's the way I want you to feel about it. Deep down in my heart I know that you would always inspire me to strive for the best in life. But I must convince you of this, and I'll do it, too, dear girl, if I get the chance."

"Maybe you will, Thornton," she replied, "and I hope that you will more than you can guess. Why—why not begin at the game today?"

"That's what I intend to do, Letta," was his prompt response. "I expect to play as I never played before, just because you are wearing Clinton's colors and wearing my pennant. It's a pretty one, isn't it?"

"The gold and brown stripes harmonize beautifully with that brilliant brown gown you are wearing. Your ticket calls for a seat back on the north goal, and I know I'll see you clearly despite the crowds."

"It certainly does," she declared. "That little me may be an inspiration to a Clinton boy to play at his best! But it seems almost a pity that you are not one of the halfbacks or in the line, though I know everything depends on the quarterback. He gives the signals and delivers the ball, doesn't he?"

up when suddenly out of a scrimmage rolled the ball. For a second nobody excepting Clinton's quarterback knew what had become of it.

As it bounded carelessly along Thornton at once sprang to it. Simultaneously he heard a shout on the side line. "Only forty seconds left!"

Directly in front of him, not twenty yards distant, was Darnall's goal. Even a halfway drop kick might win the game. Thornton dropped the ball to the ground and swung his right foot. A great burst went up, which died away suddenly in a groan. The ball flew high, but it didn't go within fifty feet of either post.

"Time's up!" yelled the umpire. Thornton felt that all Clinton was disappointed beyond expression and deeply ashamed of the showing he had made after the college had boasted of his prowess as a drop kicker. He remained in dejected seclusion during the intermission.

But when the whistle sounded again was like another man. Clinton had the north goal this time, and clearly the quarterback saw a girl in orange swinging a pennant in the grand stand. Already the throngs had found the duke in the hope of victory in the second half.

At the kick-off Thornton sent the plegu seventy yards down the field and then plunged into the game with forceful energy. He determined to redeem himself or perish in the attempt.

Back and forth over the field surged the teams, while thousands shouted encouragement. Neither seemed able to break down the defense of the other until toward the end of the half, when Clinton began to come up the field steadily.

Thornton, his head clear as a bell, was playing at frightful pace, giving Darnall no time to catch its breath after each attack. Thirty yards from the goal line! Darnall braced itself heroically and stood like a stone wall.

"Only one more minute to play!" called the umpire, and the crowds took up the shout.

Thornton realized that in so short a time line plunges would be futile. There was only one hope of victory, another drop kick for a goal. While only twenty yards away, the goal posts were off to the left at an oblique angle.

There was about one chance in a dozen of putting the ball between them, but Thornton took it. He stood back of the line ready to catch the signal. Letta in the grand stand, as if to be a kick, got ready to plunge through and break up the play.

Then suddenly the quarterback, looking directly between the goal posts, saw Letta in the grand stand, as if to be a kick, got ready to plunge through and break up the play.

Thornton, his head clear as a bell, was playing at frightful pace, giving Darnall no time to catch its breath after each attack. Thirty yards from the goal line! Darnall braced itself heroically and stood like a stone wall.

ATTENDED BY FIVE DOCTORS

BUT GOT NO RELIEF UNTIL HE USED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Wonderful Cure of A. F. Richard, Who was Tortured by Rheumatism and Kindred Pains, Sets Kent County, Ontario.

"After being tortured for four years with Backache, Rheumatism, Stiffness of the Joints and Pains in the Loins, and getting no relief from five doctors whom he called in, Mr. Antoine F. Richard, a well-known farmer living near here, is spreading the good news that he is once more a well man, and that he owes his cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Speaking of his wonderful cure, Mr. Richard says—

"I was a helpless man in July, 1907. For four years I had endured the greatest torture from Backache, Rheumatism, Stiffness of the Joints and Pains in the Loins. I had dark circles under my eyes, my head ached and I was often dizzy. I was attended by five doctors, but not one of them could help me."

"Then I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and after the first few boxes I began to improve. I used four boxes in all and now I am working every day on the farm a well man. I owe my recovery to Dodd's Kidney Pills and nothing else."

There is no case or kind of Kidney Disease that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure.

Strong in Possessions. "It is true," said a friend, "that you have amassed a great fortune. But your grammar is not correct."

"Never mind the grammar," said Mr. Dustin Stax. "This is an era of specializations. I may be a great success in one branch, but I'm an authority on the possessive case."—Washington Star.

While more prevalent in winter, when sudden changes in the weather try the strongest constitutions, colds and coughs and ailments of the throat may come in any season. At the first sign of derangement use Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. Its instant relief will be experienced and use of the medicine until the cold disappears will protect the lungs from attack. For anyone with a throat or chest weakness it cannot be surpassed.

SUGGESTED BY CHILDREN.

Origin of the Argand Lamp and the Telescope.

Some of our most useful mechanical appliances owe their existence to the ingenuity of children in fashioning their playthings. Argand, who invented a lamp with a wick fitted into a hollow cylinder, was one day busy in his workshop. Sitting before the burning lamp, his little brother was amusing himself by placing a bottomless flask over different articles. Suddenly he placed upon the flame of the lamp which instantly shot up the long circular neck of the flask with increased brilliancy. Argand did not allow such a suggestive occurrence to escape him. The idea of the lamp chimney almost immediately came into his head, and in a short time his invention was perfected.

The telescope owes its origin to a similar occurrence. The children of a Dutch spectacle maker happened to be playing one day with some of their father's glasses in front of the shop door. Placing two of the glasses together, they peeped through them and were exceedingly astonished to see the weathercock of the neighboring steeple brought within a short distance of their eyes. The boys were naturally puzzled and called their father to see the strange sight. When the spectacle maker looked through the glasses he was no less surprised than the children had been. He went indoors and thought the matter over, and then the idea occurred to him that he might construct a curious new toy which would give people a good deal of amusement. Not long after the telescope was an accomplished fact.

THE SUBTLE FEMALE.

How She Whistles and Bullies the Poor Man.

As woman gradually impressed upon man the utility of strutting around in finery and the necessity of being practically useful his garb has become more and more elaborate and his appearance. Ethnologists tell us that the decorations of primitive man were intended to fascinate feminine eyes, but woman presently began to make it clear that she was not to be trifled with. "A fine, shrewd article," but something solid and plain and useful, warranted to stand wear and tear. As for the ornaments, she was going to represent the family before the world as a person of refinement.

In fact, when one reflects how man has been stripped of gauds and wheeled out of his flippers one by one, one cannot but wonder that the man for this victim of feminine self-aggrandizement. Poor, timid trembler! A general fear of the female sex is rampant. Afraid of being married, men are afraid to marry. The subtle female creature who makes him think that it is his will to marry her. An observer remarks that a man who is more sober and more in comfort and appearance that a visitor shrewdly surmised that the son of the house, a lazy ne'er do well, had turned over a new leaf. He inquired about it.

"Well, what's my son's work now," said the smiling old mother. "Takes good money, he does, too. All he has to do is to go twice a day to the circus and put his head in the lion's mouth. The rest of the time he has to himself."

Not infectious. I used to be very much afraid that my children while playing with others would be exposed to some contagious disease, and they were constantly on the lookout for trouble of this kind.

One day little Louise, aged four, came rushing in from the street where she had been playing with a crowd of children. In a very excited manner she burst out: "Well, mother, two of the Meyers children have something, but sister says she don't think we'll catch it, though."

"Well, what's it, darling?" I asked. "It's the pigeon pox," she replied—Delineator.

How Pike Kill Parch. From careful observation I am satisfied that pike kill their prey before swallowing them, and they do this by hanging whatever fish they have secured crossways in their powerful jaws for some time before bolting it. I once watched a pike hold a perch in this way for twenty minutes, and then he lowered his head and bolted from five to ten minutes in the usual time. W. H. Armstrong in "Trout Waters, Management and Angling."

Information Wanted. Mrs. Benham—Before we were married you said that life would be one grand, sweet song. Benham—Well, what of it? Mrs. Benham—I'd like to know where you do your singing.

An Added Attraction. "Ah, Elsie, it is fine to be married to an older—such a beautiful uniform and so many decorations!" "Yes, and besides that, he'll have a band at his funeral!"—Wahne Jacob.

THE BASILISK.

How the Fabulous Monster Was Plotted by Ancient Writers.

The basilisk was the most famous of the many fabulous monsters of medieval folklore. According to the popular notion, it was hatched by a toad from an egg laid by the cock of the common barnyard fowl. In the ancient picture books it was usually represented as an eight limbed serpent or dragon, sometimes with and sometimes without wings. Its name is derived from basiliskos, meaning a little king, and was applied because the creature was figured with a circle of white spots on its back which much resembled a crown. The cockatrice, a species of basilisk, besides having a crown, possessed a comb which was an exact counterpart of the cock's. Pliny assures us that the basilisk had a voice which "struck terror to the hearts of men, beasts and serpents." The Bible classifies it with the lion, the serpent and the dragon as one of the most formidable creatures. Old writers—Pliny, Bascho and others—say that its bite was mortal in every case, and he broke through the suffocating and that no plant would grow in the vicinity of its lair. Its dead body was often suspended in bellfries to prevent swallows from building there.

A Difficult Task. One of the greatest puzzles, and a number of parliament, is how to concede the most worthy and honorable intentions to an opponent, how to profess an unwavering and unfading belief in his uncompromising veracity, and bona fides at the same time to convey a distinct conviction that he is an impostor and a humbug of the first water and an accomplished Ananias.

The Other Way. "I heard that Hunter broke down in the middle of his speech the other night," said the man who was kept at home by illness.

"Not exactly," replied the man who was in the audience at the same time to convey a distinct conviction that he is an impostor and a humbug of the first water and an accomplished Ananias.

SLEEPING DRAUGHTS AND SOOTHING MIXTURES. A wise mother will never give her little one a sleeping draught, soothing mixture or opiate of any kind except upon the advice of a competent doctor, who has seen the child.

All these things contain deadly poisons. When you give your baby or young child Baby's Own Tablets you have the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine does not contain any particles of opiate or narcotic, and therefore cannot possibly do harm. But always give Baby's Own Tablets.

As a vermicide there is no preparation that equals Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It has saved the lives of countless children.

"She's been warned against him and he against her." "Is that so? When are they to be married?"—Boston Transcript.

Repeat it:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds."

Condescending Chappie—I've really can't remember your name, but I've an idea I've met you here before.

Nervous Host—O, yes, very likely. It's my house.—The Sketch.

I Took Peruna.

The basilius was the most famous of the many fabulous monsters of medieval folklore. According to the popular notion, it was hatched by a toad from an egg laid by the cock of the common barnyard fowl. In the ancient picture books it was usually represented as an eight limbed serpent or dragon, sometimes with and sometimes without wings. Its name is derived from basiliskos, meaning a little king, and was applied because the creature was figured with a circle of white spots on its back which much resembled a crown. The cockatrice, a species of basilisk, besides having a crown, possessed a comb which was an exact counterpart of the cock's. Pliny assures us that the basilisk had a voice which "struck terror to the hearts of men, beasts and serpents." The Bible classifies it with the lion, the serpent and the dragon as one of the most formidable creatures. Old writers—Pliny, Bascho and others—say that its bite was mortal in every case, and he broke through the suffocating and that no plant would grow in the vicinity of its lair. Its dead body was often suspended in bellfries to prevent swallows from building there.

A Difficult Task. One of the greatest puzzles, and a number of parliament, is how to concede the most worthy and honorable intentions to an opponent, how to profess an unwavering and unfading belief in his uncompromising veracity, and bona fides at the same time to convey a distinct conviction that he is an impostor and a humbug of the first water and an accomplished Ananias.

The Other Way. "I heard that Hunter broke down in the middle of his speech the other night," said the man who was kept at home by illness.

"Not exactly," replied the man who was in the audience at the same time to convey a distinct conviction that he is an impostor and a humbug of the first water and an accomplished Ananias.

SLEEPING DRAUGHTS AND SOOTHING MIXTURES. A wise mother will never give her little one a sleeping draught, soothing mixture or opiate of any kind except upon the advice of a competent doctor, who has seen the child.

All these things contain deadly poisons. When you give your baby or young child Baby's Own Tablets you have the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine does not contain any particles of opiate or narcotic, and therefore cannot possibly do harm. But always give Baby's Own Tablets.

RAILWAY BOOM

It is almost a certainty that Alberta will experience a great boom in railway building commencing this spring. The C.P.R. have already outlined their policy and will rebuild the Crow's Nest line from Macleod to the B.O. line, also start construction of other lines from Lethbridge running both north and south. The Kootenay Co., which will commence at Fort Steele, junction and connect with the main line at Golden, B.C., will open up a valuable tract of fruit and agricultural lands. In all probability this line will be rushed to completion during the present season. The Alberta government are determined to give all reasonable assistance possible to the C.N.R. and G.T.P., and it is only reasonable to expect that with the government guaranteeing the bonds of these roads they will push the work of construction into those parts of the province where railway facilities are most urgently needed. Altogether we believe that a great railway boom is in sight for Alberta and good times will be in order for many years to come.

WHEN WILL CANADA AWAKEN?

In concluding his report of the Marine and Fisheries inquiry judge Cassels says as follows: "In the first place the chief remedy for the amelioration of the conditions I have sought to portray, lies in the awakening of public conscience. If the public generally could be brought to view with abhorrence graft and abuse of trust on the part of those administering the public moneys and property, no such abuses as have occurred in the past would be in sight." Such language from the judge who investigated the irregularities casting strong reflection on the public for their apathy and a scathing rebuke to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers. We must agree with the judge when he says that the only remedy "lies in the awakening of the public conscience." As long as the people of Canada continue to look upon the "rascal" as a smart fellow and judge of his ability by the amount of "swag" he gets away with, just so long will our country continue on the downward slide to degradation and disgrace. The United States has awakened and the grafters who once were the whole "thing" over there are receiving no mercy at the hands of an awakened public. The rich and poor alike are adorning the state stone pile, while the good work of rounding up the balance goes on. Well it will be for Canada when this awakening takes place and work to the man who has betrayed the public trust. Blameworthy was right when he said that a country was as well governed as it deserved to be.

THE FLORIDA RAMS REPUBLIC

A Collision of Liners on Atlantic Ocean Results in Death of Six

New York, Jan. 24.—The wireless telegraph on Saturday spoke but the prologue of the great drama being enacted off Nantucket out upon the sea behind the impenetrable curtain of fog, out upon the sea where the steamship Florida, with 1,100 souls aboard, had rammed the White Star liner Republic, with upwards of 800 souls aboard. Today, by the same mail, means, the full drama was enacted before the attentive world and soon revealed itself a tragedy.

"Regret that first class passengers of the Republic, Mrs. Edward Lynch and W. J. Mooney, were killed; also Mr. Lynch and Mrs. Murphy badly injured.—Ransom."

This wireless message, received by officials of the White Star line, grimly refuted the "all safe" and "no lives lost" messages that had gladdened the watchers on the shore. Science had done much to lessen the horrors of this great modern disaster of the sea, but death was not baffled. It came quick and terrible when the sharp prow of the Florida cut its way into the side of the Republic, crushing to death the two passengers as they slept in their berths and maiming those who slept but an arm's length away. It visited the hold as well as the deck of the liner and four members of the crew, believed to be coal passers at work deep in the hold of the ship, were killed by the crushing blow that doomed the Republic.

The dead and injured as reported by wireless are as follows:

The dead: W. J. Mooney, Laundon, N.D.; Mrs. Eugene Lynch, Boston, Mass.; four members of the crew, unnamed.

The injured: Eugene Lynch, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. M. J. Murphy, Grand Forks, N.D.

Those named above were first cabin passengers and occupied adjoining staterooms on the saloon deck on the port side of the Republic, where the bow of the Florida crashed into the vessel.

New York, Jan. 25.—Within considerably less than 72 hours after the crash between the ocean liners Republic and Florida off the Nantucket shoals which eventually sent the one to an watery grave, the survivors of the terrible accident have found a haven at last. At midnight tonight 50 passengers from the two vessels were safe in this port, brought here by the Baltic, while nearing it were the rescued officers and crew of the Republic, safe on board the derelict destroyer Seneca, to which they were transferred from the revenue cutter Juchanan after staying up to the last moment by their sinking vessel.

At the dock in Brooklyn was the battered Florida aboard which her crew had remained throughout her trying experiences. Only the ill-fated Republic was wanting to complete the list and she too was in port, her last port, what will doubtless prove her final resting place beneath thirty-eight fathoms of water, fifteen miles south of the Nantucket shoals lightship. As the thrilling story of what occurred, when the steamers crashed together in the fog and mist of that memorable early morning of last Saturday and the dramatic incidents which followed, approaches approval, naturally completeness, it begins to be apparent that the past three days have witnessed what is beyond question the most remarkable series of happenings in the history of modern navigation. As the drama is re-enacted on the tales of the survivors and of eye-witnesses, a sense of what might have been had there been lacking the accident, that was actually displayed, the marvellous human efficiency that was shown and the aid that modern science was able to render in the most critical of situations becomes strikingly clear.

Operations at the oil well have ceased at a depth of about 1,250 feet. The reason for stopping is apparently to obtain some necessary tools from Chicago for the work. At present writing it cannot be learned when the drilling will again commence.

Some of our subscribers out of the district complain of the failure of newspapers to give accounts of the climate in Alberta. The climate is the least of our troubles. At present writing the weather is perfect winter weather and has been for two weeks, the thermometer registering in the neighborhood of 10 to 30 deg. above zero. For a week previous to that we experienced a cold spell, ranging from 10 below to 40 below but without any hardship. The cattle on the range are doing nicely, necessitating little or no feeding. The following may be of interest relative to our climate throughout Alberta. Government statistics show that for the past ten years the average temperatures for the six winter months at Edmonton was 8 deg. above zero, Calgary 13.1 deg. above zero and Pincher 22.5 deg. above zero. It will thus be seen that our climate is all that could be wished for. When the thermometer goes away down below zero (and it does in perhaps a couple of cases each winter for a short period) the air is dry and calm and the cold is not felt nearly so badly as in parts where the altitude is lower. Cattle and horses are wintered on the range without hardship and feeding is only necessary for about two weeks during the extreme cold when there is snow on the ground.

BIG BOXING

CONTEST

At Pincher City--The Referee Decides in Favor of the "Alberta Kid."

(From our special correspondent.)
The boxing contest which took place at the Pincher City Athletic Association headquarters, on Saturday evening, was a huge success beyond the most sanguine expectations of the promoters. Alberta Kid won the decision in six rounds over the "London Wonder" in what proved to be the fastest contest ever seen in this place. All the ring-side seats were occupied and nearly all the other seats were filled.

At 8:30 p.m. Tom Campbell, middleweight wrestling champion of Western Canada, entered the ring, followed immediately by Unknown, which very likely, by the way in which he was handled by Tom, it will be his desire that his name still be unknown. Tom succeeded in landing his man in 3 minutes 10 seconds. Unknown turned the tables in 32 seconds by throwing Tom over his head, following up the advantage and pinning him to the mat. Excitement at this point was intense and the crowd waited in anticipation for the last round. Both men came up strong, but Scotty had measured his man's weak points and after five minutes of strength absorbing, bone crushing, nerve wrecking embraces the big Unknown sank to the mat a badly beaten man, and Tom is still of the opinion that he can throw any man as fast as twenty men can pick him up.

The text preliminary was a 3-round gas-you-please between two Pincher City lightweights, who displayed some remarkable science and skill and were frequently applauded. This bout was decided a draw, the referee's decision meeting with much approval.

The main event was then announced. Two men from San Francisco, whose names we unable to ascertain, entered the ring and tossed a coin for choice of corners. The Alberta Kid won the choice of corners, which was the S.E. corner. The Alberta Kid was the first of the two contestants to enter the ring. His appearance with only a bath robe over his shoulders and a confident smile on his face caused tremendous cheering by the great assembly. The London Wonder with similar dress caused less cheering than did the Alberta Kid.

Little Dutchy, a prize fight promoter, who arrived on the delayed special train from Spokane, agreed to act as referee. He appointed a man, known in ring circles as Nova Scotia Pete, to act as time keeper. These two men, although strangers to the greater part of the audience, gave entire satisfaction and showed that they are entitled to the high reputation they have gained through the newspaper in officiating at similar events for a number of years. The referee read the rules that were to govern the contest, which forbade the contestants to bite, kick, scratch, or use any other unsportsmanlike means of winning the contest, and after announcing that the big purse would be divided 60 per cent. to the winner and 40 per cent. to the loser, the seconds were told by the referee to turn them loose.

Round 1.--Men shook hands. The Alberta Kid swung with his right at the head, which the London Wonder cleverly ducked. The London Wonder swung with his left which was stopped by the Alberta Kid's nose. After a lively mix up with honors about even time was called.

Round 2.--Alberta Kid swung with his right which landed on Wonder's jaw, this was a hard one. After considerable clever ducking and side stepping on the part of the Wonder, he landed right and left on the Alberta Kid's nose.

Round 3.--After being cautioned by his second not to allow the Wonder to make a punching bag of his nose, the Alberta Kid kept his face well guarded. The Alberta Kid tried a vicious uppercut which was cleverly avoided. After quite a mix up, in which honors were about even, time was called.

Round 4.--The Alberta Kid led with his right and swung with his left, which in attempting to duck, the London Wonder slipped and fell to the floor, and on account of the tremendous speed the Alberta Kid was going, he was unable to check his right and left until they landed. The referee decided that it was plainly seen that it was an accident and the Alberta Kid felt very humiliated over

PINCHER CITY, - ALBERTA

Woman's World

MRS. WILLIAM H. TAFT.

Charming Personality of the Wife of the President Elect.

What manner of woman is Mrs. Taft, whose name is so soon to be added to those of the women whose influence has made the social fame of past administrations? More pertinent still, how will it measure with the record of the Roosevelt regime? The first question is easy to answer, for few women have gone into the White House so well equipped to meet the exacting of the position of "first lady" of the land.

Mrs. Taft has brains and uses them without being in any sense aggressive or pedantic. She talks well and looks well when she is talking. Her smile has the charm of intelligence, that quick dash of recognition distinct from the frozen, automatic smile peculiar to many women in official life, on whom social duties make many demands, even to that of continuously "looking pleasant."

She has a generous mouth and handsome teeth, a straight nose, well proportioned to her other features, and a broad forehead, above which her brown hair is arranged in a soft pompadour.

In her knowledge of languages Mrs. Taft will have the advantage over many of her predecessors. The future mistress of the White House is a good French and Italian speaker.

A woman of tact is one who does not gauge people by her clothes or her riches, but who condemns bad manners. A woman of tact is one who is courteous to all circumstances and in every condition in which she may be placed. A woman of tact is one whose love for humanity is second only in her life's devotion to her own welfare. It is unselfishness in thought and action with regard to others.

Other avenues through which her artistic taste finds an outlet are her love of pictures and her appreciation of woodcarving. The art collection of her brother-in-law, Charles Taft, has no more appreciative friend than his sister-in-law. She is enthusiastic about every treasure he adds to it and enjoys very things about him pointing out its beauties to others. Mrs. Taft on her own account has made a study of woodcarving and has the nucleus of a fine collection and knows the fine points in the work of various schools and masters.

She, too, is a book lover, because she grew up in a home where books came from the shelves and made the worlds they contain part of the domestic environment. As Helen Herron her favorite authors were Thackeray and Dickens. Mrs. Taft is loyal to her literary friends and still dips into their society. George Eliot is one of the favorites of her later years. Newspapers come in, for a daily share of her attention. To any subject in which Mrs. Taft is interested or of which she has a special knowledge she gives a great part of her time. As few men of the period have had occasion to look up information on more varied subjects as the president elect, his wife's knowledge is necessarily extensive. That Mrs. Taft is the right woman for the position of mistress of the White House and that she will be a gracious and charming chaperone there is no manner of doubt.

She Sees the Reason. Notices and warnings on placards do not begin to make the impression upon the public that one individual experience will. Every woman knows that in all postoffices are cards begging persons to put their names and addresses on all valuable letters that they may be returned in case they cannot be delivered. One woman, at least, has seen and disregarded them for years, but in the future she will do differently. Last month she had occasion to send away $10 and put one bill of that denomination in an envelope, which she neither registered nor wrote on the back for return. The letter was never delivered, and the woman was obliged to send another bill, this time registered. One day her first letter came back to her after six weeks of wandering.

She found that she had used one of her husband's business envelopes, on which were stamped his name and address, and because she had misdirected it in the first place it had come back to the name printed at the top. Thus she is in $10, and when she sends money again by mail there is no doubt that the letter will have her own name on the outside as well as that of the addressee.

Dark Spare Men as Husbands. If young women would study the chromatic characteristics of men more closely before betrothing themselves, said the woman who thinks deeply, there would be fewer unhappy marriages. A man's complexion and hair would have much to do with his disposition. That traditional bogey of the fortune tellers, "the dark man," is not such a mistake type, after all. When, in addition, he is of spare build every girl who wants a happy home ought to have a special mitten all ready to hand to him. Many years of observation have taught me it is impossible for a dark, slender man to make any woman happy. It isn't in him to be happy himself. He invariably is suspicious, narrow minded and jealous of the slightest interest. The new separate stocks are made with wide ruchings at the top. Some smart models of this kind are shown here. ## THE BEST IN LIFE.

Cultivate Gladness—The Brand Improves With Constant Practice.

If you want to see the worth of the bargain in life cultivate gladness. The one who mopes doesn't enjoy herself, and surely no one enjoys her. Any one can be glad when things go her way. To be glad when the maid breaks your best dinner set and the brook on which you're broken yourself turns out a fright show is a disposition that can be counted on to oil life's wheels.

There's a lot of gladness going, but many of us are blind to it. What we want is to take life like a healthy child and find enjoyment in simple things. We can cultivate our critical side until it takes the zest from everything. What if we haven't an overflowing pocketbook? Need we hang down the corners of our mouths when there are health and the outdoors and love to make for gladness? Does it come easier to look on the black side? Has the pose of misfortune become your natural state? Forget it and take to grinning.

At first that grin may be strained, but most of us will find that it is more lovely than your usual hangdog expression. The brand improves with practice.

Forced cheerfulness is not pleasing, but it is better than chronic depression. Keep pumping out that oil of gladness, and by and by the dumps will be lubricated.

Gladness isn't an effort to be glad; it is just being glad. You cannot worry yourself into it; neither does it come by simulation; it does come from taking life easy and enjoying things, whether they were meant to be enjoyed or not.

You said one, try for a day to hunt causes for gladness. Instead of summing up your woes and mourning over the total, get in a receptive mood for joy. You'll be surprised at the end of the day to find how many have been the occasions for smiling.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Take exercise in the open air daily. Air is all essential.

Tight sleeves and tight finger rings are a frequent source of red hands, and the only remedy for this is to remove the irritating cause.

The secret of standing and walking erect consists in keeping the chin away from the breast. This throws the head upward and backward, and the shoulders naturally settle backward in their true position.

Sleeplessness is often caused by the head being exposed to the cold while the rest of the body is warm. In nine cases out of ten if the head is covered with a handkerchief it will induce the much desired sleep.

A NIGHT OF TORTURE

It Brought a Fortune to Its Half Strangled Victim.

AN INNOCENT MAN'S ORDEAL.

Twice Strung Up by Lynchers, He Confessed to Murder and Was Afterward Vindicated and Recovered $25,000 From His Assailants.

Late in the fifties of the last century George W. King was the proprietor of a hotel in Oxford, twenty-six miles from Lafayette, Ind. In 1850 a stranger arrived at the hotel and gave his name as Dr. Rowe. He told King that he had no money and asked to be trusted for his board till he could get practice in the place, promising to pay him as promptly as possible. King consented to the arrangement, and Rowe soon became a favorite with the people on account of his companionable disposition and superior intelligence. The doctor, however, fell deeper and deeper in debt. After eating of one hundred a year when King reminded him one morning that he had not paid anything on his board bill for three months. The conversation was overheard by some one in the hotel, though nothing was thought of it at the time.

A week after the conversation Rowe was called out late at night to see a patient and failed to return. Days passed without any word from him, and his disappearance soon was connected with the conversation that had passed between him and the landlord about the unpaid board. One night three months later a party of disguised men entered the hotel and, overpowering King, took him to a woodland adjoining the town.

He recognized the voices of several of his captors and especially of the leader, who told him that he was suspected of murdering Rowe and demanded that he confess. King stoutly maintained his innocence, and the leader of the mob ordered his companions to strangle him with a rope. Rowe was placed around his neck, a dozen men pulled down a stout limb, over which the other end of the rope was thrown, and when the limb was released King carried off his feet and left him hanging by the neck. He was nearly unconscious when let down and again ordered to confess.

After much delay he was restored to consciousness. The mob then said to him, and he again refused, declaring his innocence and saying he did not know what had become of Rowe. A second time he was strung up and a second time let down, but this time he was nearly extinct, and he was much longer in being restored than before.

The luckless landlord knew he could not pass through another such ordeal and live, so he consented to confess. He purposely lengthened the confession in order to win time and said that he and two men, named Rogers and Haggard, had poisoned some whiskey and induced Rowe to drink it, and that he had then buried him in a hollow some distance away. It was nearly daylight when the confession was made, and the lynchers determined to take King to jail in Lafayette and then arrest Rogers and Haggard.

Before the jail was reached day had dawned, and King recognized his captors as members of the Horse Thieves' band of Benion, Warren and Tippecanoe counties, nearly all of whom were known to him. Confident of his guilt, the men made no attempt to conceal their identity. So great was the excitement and so intense the feeling against King that he waived examination and went to jail, hoping that something would turn up to exonerate him.

From the jail at Lafayette King addressed letters to editors of papers in Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville and other cities, setting out the circumstances of his confinement and asking them to keep his letter in the papers in hopes that it might fall under Rowe's notice. The appeal was a pathetic one and was copied into many papers throughout the north-west.

Two weeks after its first appearance Dr. Rowe rode into Oxford and, attended by a number of citizens, proceeded to Lafayette, where his appearance caused the immediate release of the accused landlord. In explanation of his disappearance Rowe said he had left his home in the east on account of domestic troubles, that he had learned that his wife was on her way to Oxford, and he had determined to leave the place secretly in order to prevent her from learning where he had gone. He had come to a little town in southern Illinois, and it was there that he learned that the man who had befriended him was suspected of murder and was in jail in Lafayette.

As soon as King was released he brought suit against thirty-two members of the Horse Thieves' band, claiming for $25,000 each and also against the company as a corporation. Thomas A. Hendricks, afterward vice president, was his counsel, but the case was not allowed to come to trial, the jurors withdrawing after paying King $25,000 each. With this money he purchased a farm and other property near Lafayette, where he lived till his death at the age of seventy-eight years.

A QUEER WOOING.

Whistler's Offhand Wedding and the Bride's Scant Treasures.

Labouchere's claim that he brought about the marriage of Whistler is thus recorded in the "Life of Whistler." I believe I am responsible for Whistler's marriage to the widow of Mr. Godwin, the architect. She was a remarkably pretty woman and very agreeable, and both she and he were thorough bohemians. I was dining with them and some other one evening at Earl's Court. They were obviously greatly attracted to each other, and in a vague sort of way they thought of marrying. So I took the matter in hand to bring things to a practical point.

"Jimmie," I said, "will you marry Mrs. Godwin?" "Certainly," he replied. "Mrs. Godwin," I said, "will you marry Jimmie?" "Certainly," she replied. "When?" I asked. "Oh, some day," said Whistler. "That won't do," I said. "We must have a date."

So they both agreed that I should choose the day, what church to come to for the ceremony, provide the clergyman and give the feast away. I fixed an early date and got the then chaplain of the house of commons, the Rev. Mr. Byng, to perform the ceremony.

It took place a few days later. After the ceremony was over we adjourned to Whistler's studio, where we had prepared a banquet. The banquet was on the table, but there were no chairs. So we sat on packing cases. The happy pair when I left had not quite decided whether they would go that evening to Paris or remain in the studio.

How impractical they were was shown when I happened to meet the bride the day before the marriage in the street.

"Don't forget tomorrow," I said. "No," she replied; "I am just going to get my trousseau."

"A little late for that, is it not?" I asked.

"No," she answered, "for I am only going to buy a new toothbrush and a new sponge, as one ought to have new ones when one marries."

DON'T FIGHT THE WEATHER.

Try the Plan of Being on Friendly Terms With It.

What a great misfortune this is, the habit of considering the weather—of thinking that we must consider the weather! It is largely due, is it not, to clothes? No mention is made of rain in the garden of Eden, but we must not therefore contend that rain was unseemable and omitted. We must recollect that Adam and Eve did not need to consider rain. Furthermore, in those days they did not know the weather, so they could not be considered. To mind the rain is more than the May sunshine, but to plunge into it and let the drops pelt as they will, to accept snow without a thought of disagreeable time is to enjoy the thorough presence of it; to pursue one's duty—yes, of whether the sky be blue or blueish—is in a state which we, especially of the cities, long have lost.

We regard it, some of us, in the wilderness camp, where we hunt or fish if the day be dark or if the day be bright, and where we find that the lack of the weather is to enjoy the thorough presence of it; to pursue one's duty—yes, of whether the sky be blue or blueish—is in a state which we, especially of the cities, long have lost.

All the centuries of fussing and fuming with the weather have not affected the weather one particle. It still rains and snows and sleets and blows, just as dictated by circumstances. Therefore, what's the use? Are your puny diatribes or mine of any greater potency than those of others gone before? Evidently not. Accordingly try the plan of being friendly with the weather, of agreeing with it instead of fighting it. "poo my word, presently it will be agreeing with you,"—E. L. Sabin in Lippincott's.

Meaning of Fabian Policy.

A Fabian policy in war consists in wearing out the enemy by delays, misleading movements, feints of attack, etc. It is called Fabian because it is the policy that was adopted by Fabius Maximus, who commanded the Roman army in the second Punic war. He was appointed to the command just as the army had suffered a defeat, and he knew that in its disheartened condition and with its complement of raw recruits it could not successfully oppose troops flushed with victory and led by their great commander, Hannibal. He therefore attempted to tire out the enemy by counterattacks, ambushes and skirmishes, avoiding a pitched battle. This he continued until the Roman senate interfered.

HINDOO JUGGLING.

Wonderful Feats of Balancing Performed by an Acrobat.

The Hindoo jugglers and acrobats are the most skillful in the world, and we are always hearing new stories of them, says the Chicago News. One of the latest stories is about a performer who went through many wonderful feats perched on top of a single bamboo stick about fifteen feet in height. The top of the stick was tied to a girdle around his waist, and a leg rest was provided by a cushion a few feet down the pole. Perched on this slender stick, he hopped and danced around in the liveliest way, accompanied by the tapping of a drum. It would be considered a skillful feat to walk about with ease on a pair of stilts fifteen feet in height, but this Hindoo showed a marvelous power of equilibrium on a single stick.

He did other things even more wonderful. For example, he balanced a light stick on his nose and a heavy one on his chin and then threw the heavy one into the air with his head and caught it on the end of the light one. While balancing the two sticks thus, end on end, he made one revolve in one direction and the other in another direction. Another feat was to place his hand on a flat circular stone, throw his feet up into the air and balance a stick on each of them, at the same time revolving rapidly on the pivot made by his arm and the stone.

Writing Games.

When you are tired of romping play "story teller." All agree upon a title to the story. Each writes a few lines, turns down and passes it to his neighbor, telling him the last word. So on it goes until the circle, when the last one reads the story. Have you ever tried this? Each takes a letter, beginning with the first letter of the alphabet, and writes a line in any meter chosen, all the words of which must begin with that letter (A). The papers are pressed, and the next in turn writes a line, beginning with the letter "B," and so on. Every two lines rhyme, and the game kept up as long as possible. The critic is played thus: Each writes the name of a book, turns down the slip and passes it to his neighbor, who writes a second title; then the author's name is written and then a review.

Railway Company asks for Charter to build and operate Railway from Coal Mines to Pincher City

Even this railway news causes no undue excitement in Pincher City, as it has been almost a monthly occurrence during the past year for some company to ask the privilege of building a railway line to Pincher City. It is very probable that this line will be built into Pincher City, and it is very fortunate for this company that the many other companies who have asked for the privilege of building railway lines to Pincher City failed to construct their lines, for if they had done so it would necessitate this company to build a belt line of railway around Pincher City in order to obtain a landing in the City, which would entail an enormous outlay of capital.

Prospects for the Sale of Farm Land and City Property

We have a number of prospective buyers, both for Farm Land and City Property, whom we have been expecting for several weeks, but unfortunately for them they live in sections of the country where, according to newspaper reports, the climatic condition of the country has made life almost unbearable on account of the intense cold weather, which is, no doubt, the cause of their non-appearance in sunny Southern Alberta on schedule time.

While the weather here for the past few weeks might be called cool, especially the nights, it has caused no cessation of business, travel or duty. Many citizens of Pincher City made it their business to travel 20 to 25 miles in making a trip recently to perform the duty of voting for a councillor, and while no boasts are made that the trip was as pleasant as a trip in July to a celebration would be, still it shows what is being done in sunny Southern Alberta while our neighbors in other parts of the country are making a brave struggle to exist on account of the bitter cold weather they are having.

In reply to a number of inquiries we have had to our ad. re Pincher City lots, we have decided to refuse to sell lots in Pincher City to speculators, unless they agree to improve them by building either a residence or a business house. We find that it is imperative for us to make this rule, for if we did not too much of the property would be held by speculators, which would be a detriment to the building up of the town, and we find we will have plenty of buyers who will willingly comply with our rule in the matter of building.

If you are interested in Pincher City to the extent of being willing to buy lots and build, any inquiries re same will receive prompt attention.

We have a fine list of farm land at bargain prices on good terms.
